

Non-Returnable Items List

Document ID: RT-004 | Version 3.2 | Effective: 1 January 2026 | Department: Returns

1. Overview

For hygiene, safety, legal or practical reasons, certain items cannot be returned for change of mind. If such an item arrives damaged, defective, expired or wrong, it is still covered for a return or refund.

2. Non-Returnable Categories

Item Type	Reason
Innerwear, lingerie, swimwear, socks	Hygiene
Opened cosmetics, skincare and perfumes	Hygiene and safety
Earphones and headphones (once opened)	Hygiene
Perishable food and fresh groceries	Spoilage
Digital products, gift cards, vouchers, game codes	Cannot be recovered
Customised or personalised items	Made to order
Software and subscription activations	Already consumed
Medicines and medical devices	Regulatory
Items marked 'Final Sale' on the listing	Sold as-is

3. Exceptions

The non-returnable status does not apply if the item is: (a) damaged or defective on arrival, (b) not as described, (c) wrong item, or (d) expired when delivered. These cases follow the standard 7-day window.

4. Clearly Marked Listings

Sellers must mark non-returnable items clearly on the product page before purchase. If a listing does not show this marking, the item is treated as returnable under standard rules.
